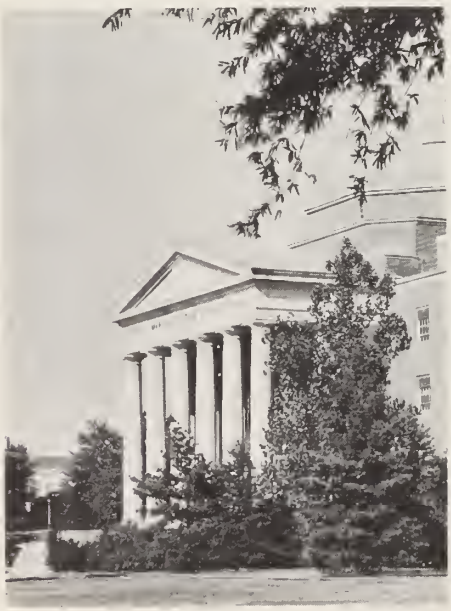
COLLEGE PARK, MARYLAND

Its Campus . . . .

Today, the University of Maryland at College Park (UMCP) is described as a Georgian Colonial campus, with nearly 200 buildings spaced across a rolling 1300 acre park-like setting. The College Park campus is a city of young people with all the advantages, excitement and problems of a community. While the focus of the campus community is on its academic and intellectual activities, the campus has its own daily newspaper, its own police department, an 18 hole golf course, hotel, stores, movie house, theatre, art gallery, pub, bowling alley, tennis courts and swimming pools.

An undergraduate student may specialize in one of 127 majors or create a program of individual studies. Pre-professional education is offered in 15 fields and the academically talented student may take advantage of the Honor's Program. The graduate student may choose from among 81 academic concentrations.



Noted for the academic strength of its programs, UMCP is one of 51 members of the prestigious Association of American Universities. It is currently the seventh largest university in the nation — and, with such size, comes quality. This means better facilities, not only in the day-to-day classroom, but also in the research and faculty staff. Our teacher staff consists of over 6,000 personnel — which brings our student/professor ratio down to 16-1. This allows us to offer a degree in a variety of fields.

The facilities, faculty, history and flexibility are not our only strengths. The University of Maryland is totally committed to the individual student, regardless of whether he or she is a freshman or a candidate for a Ph.D. A full-time advisor is provided by our Athletic Department for personal and vocational counseling for student-athletes.

1981-82 Terps Blend Youth and Experience - - - Begin NCAA Title Drive

The University of Maryland, 89-29 over the last four seasons, has been one of the most successful teams in the nation. Appearing in the "top-twenty poll" again this past year each and every week, the Terps continue to boast the honor of being the only team in the nation to be ranked in the poll every week since its inception five years ago!

The 1980-81 Maryland team, faced with the prospect of a rebuilding year and the toughest regular season schedule the Terrapins had ever faced, responded brilliantly by continuing their tradition of "top ten" finishes. For the fourth consecutive year Coach Chris Weller guided her Terps to the AIAW quarterfinals, finishing the season ranked 8th in the nation.

The Terrapins surprised most observers last year, when after being dubbed a "centerless" team, they won their third Atlantic Coast Conference Championship in four years.

"Last year we did well because the team worked very hard," cites Weller. "We emphasized our quickness, and the fact that although we were not tall inside we did have good height throughout the line up. We will continue to emphasize these same strengths."

In the Terps bid for a National Championship they received an opening round bye, and then defeated 11th ranked Kentucky to move into the quarterfinals. There they were halted for the second straight year by the 2nd ranked Volunteers of Tennessee.

Coach Weller's career mark now stands at 126 wins, against 39 losses for a winning percentage of .764 and an average of 21 wins a year for her six seasons in College Park.

The pride and excellence displayed by Coach Weller's teams in the past will undoubtedly live on in the 1981-82 season. The Terrapins return virtually intact, losing only one starter from the ten player roster. "The hard working attitude has prevailed in the off-season with each player returning significantly improved," spoke an enthused Weller.

A solid four starter nucleus is headed by senior forward Myra Waters. The three year starter from Toledo, Ohio has amassed 994 points in her career, placing her 4th on the Terps all-time scoring list. Waters led last year's team in four statistical categories and tied for another. The teams leading scorer with a 16.2 average, Waters connected on 55% of her field goals, pulled in 239 rebounds (8.5 rpg) and was credited with 23 blocked shots. She shared the steal honors, stripping opponents 73 times. For the second straight year Waters was accorded honors on the All - Region and ACC All - Tournament Teams.

The front line is bolstered by the return of two year letter-winner Debbie Lytle. Probably the most versatile player on the squad, Lytle has played both the lead guard and small forward positions. She returns as the Terps second leading scorer (14.2) and rebounder (7.2) as well as the leader in assists. Her 93 "feeds" is indicative of her ability to control the ball from her guard position, while her 152 rebounds in 21 games proves her ability to "muscle" inside when playing on the front line. Lytle, too, had 73 steals to her credit.

The backcourt combination of junior Jasmina Perazic and sophomore Marcia Richardson contributed 555 points last season and should again provide a potent offensive punch for the 81-82 Terrapins. Perazic, the third leading scorer last year with a 12.4 average, has a remarkably quick release and at 6'1" the swing guard is hard to stop. While Perazic hit 53% of her field goals, freshman point guard Marcia Richardson hit 52% and led the team from the charity stripe hitting 84% of her free throws.

Senior Lydia McAliley and sophomore Belinda Pearman, each at 6'1", will allow Maryland to continue the three forward running game that proved so successful last season. McAliley, an aggressive player, averaged 9.1 points per game while grabbing 174 rebounds. As a freshman, Pearman saw steadily increasing action in 27 games, getting the starting nod in nine. The quickness and aggressiveness of McAliley and Pearman will be counted on to neutralize size advantage of opposing team.

Providing the Terps with depth in the backcourt is junior Rachelle Willett and sophomore Tina Hodgson. A two year letterwinner, Willett's quickness blends with the traditional Maryland style of a running, transitional game. Hodgson, who saw limited action her first year, will supply the Terps with outside scoring depth.

Joining the list of veterans is a quartet of newcomers. Julie Silverberg, a 5-10 forward/guard, was a first team All-State player while at George Washington High School in Charleston, West Virginia. She led her team to three straight State Championships.

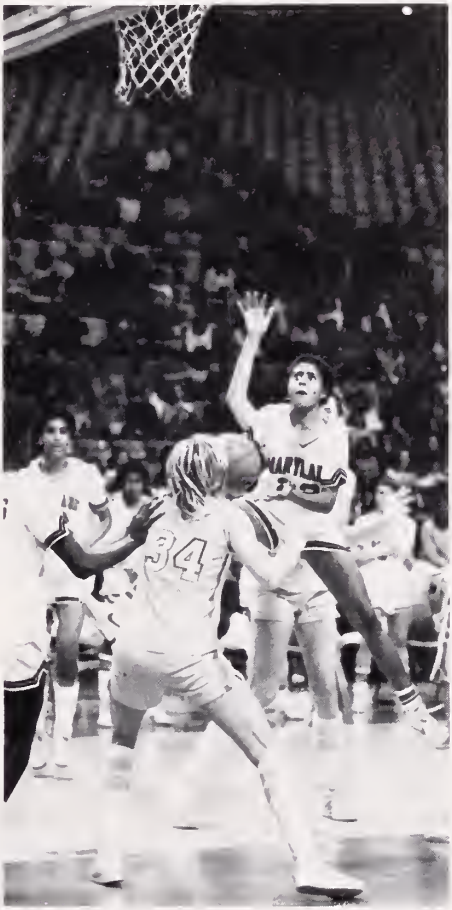
Hailing from William Byrd High School in Vinton, Virginia is 6'2" center/forward Dorothy Smith. Averaging 13.5 points and pulling down 11.8 rebounds, Smith led her high school squad to the State Championship with an undefeated record.

Christine Johnson is Coach Weller's third recruit signed. A 5'8" guard, Johnson graduated from Libbey High School in Toledo, Ohio, the same school that produced Terp senior Myra Waters. Johnson directed her team to the Ohio State Championship. A first team all-State player, she is an outstanding ball handler who will lend depth to the point guard position.

A local girl is the fourth recruit added to the 1981-82 team. Kim Johnson, 6'2" from nearby Northwestern High School averaged 14 points and 12 rebounds from the center position.

"Our weakness last year was inconsistency, which should be improved by our increased experience and our off season preparation," said Weller. "With the new freshmen we also have better depth than last year".

In her seventh season as head mentor, Weller's ability to blend youth and experience will once again be tested. If the past is an indication, Maryland fans can be assured that the Terps will continue their spirited progression toward the top.



HEAD COACH CHRIS WELLER

Chris Weller, entering her seventh year as head coach of the University of Maryland women's basketball team, has established herself among the top coaches in the country. A 1966 graduate of the University, Weller boasts a six year coaching record of 126-39 at Maryland. Her first year as coach, Weller led Maryland to its first 20 victory season. Finishing out the 1975-76 season at 20-4, the Terrapins placed fourth in the EAIAW Regional Tournament and won the Maryland State Championship. Maryland again placed fourth in the region in 1976-77, and finished the season with a 17-6 record, ranked 13th in the nation.

The 1977-78 campaign was, by far, the most successful season ever for a Maryland basketball team. Finishing the year with a 27-4 record, Coach Weller's Terrapins won the first ACC Women's Championship and were runners-up in both the EAIAW Regional and AIAW National Tournaments, ending the season ranked second in the nation.

Weller's third 20 victory season came in the 1978-79 season, as the Terps turned in a 22-7 record. The season was highlighted by winning the 1st Orange Bowl Women's Classic Tournament, the ACC Championship for the second time, a second place finish in the EAIAW Regionals, and a trip to the AIAW National Tournament for the second year in a row. The Terps finished the season ranked 6th in the nation.

With only one starter returning from the 1978-79 squad, critics claimed that Maryland would falter. The critics were hushed as the Terps turned in their third consecutive 20 win season with a 21-9 record and a Sixth Place National Ranking as Weller led the Terps to their first ever EAIAW Regional crown and to the AIAW quarterfinals. The most recent of Weller's coaching accomplishments came this past season. Dubbed a "centerless" squad, the Terps surprised most observers as they finished 19-9, captured their third ACC Championship in four years, advanced to the quarterfinals of the national tournament for the fourth consecutive season, and received a ranking in the top eight for the fourth straight year.

While enrolled at Maryland, Weller played four years of varsity basketball, and was team captain for two of them. She was on the swimming team for two years and played on the first women's lacrosse team at Maryland. Following graduation, she taught physical education for seven years at nearby John F. Kennedy High School in Silver Spring for the Montgomery County School System where she coached basketball, gymnastics, track, tennis and lacrosse.

Weller returned to Maryland in 1973 and served as assistant basketball coach, working with the Junior Varsity program. She was named interim basketball coach in 1975 and has been the head coach ever since. In 1976, Weller was appointed Assistant Athletic Director for Women's Sports, a post she held until 1980. During her four years with the administration, she was active in building one of the finest women's athletic programs in the nation at Maryland.

A popular speaker at coaching clinics, Weller has attracted hundreds of girls to her annual basketball camp during the past five summers. She is also a prominent coach on the national level, twice serving as Assistant Coach at the AIAW - Hanes All - American Classic. She was Head Coach of the East Squad in the 1979 Classic and was Head Coach of the East Junior Women's team that won the gold medal at the first U.S.A. National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

A nominee for Coach of the Year for three years, Weller has also been active in the advancement of women's basketball in other fronts. She has been a member of the Kodak All-American Committee for the past three years, a member of the EAIAW Basketball Committee for four years, and the Chairperson and National Representative for the EAIAW Basketball Committee for two years.

BASKETBALL STAFF

SUE GORSUCH
Assistant Coach

Sue begins her second season as assistant coach to Chris Weller. Like Coach Weller, she is a Maryland alumna, receiving her B.S. degree in Physical Education in 1973. While attending Maryland she was a member of the basketball team for four years, the volleyball team for three and was a member of the lacrosse squad for one season.

Following graduation, the Frederick County native, began teaching and coaching at nearby Sherwood High School. An eight year stay at Sherwood saw Gorsuch coach volleyball, track and basketball.

At Maryland her duties include scouting, recruiting, organizing clinics throughout the state, and assisting with the summer camp. Somewhere around the hectic pace she finds time to enjoy sailing, skiing and softball.

SANDRA WORTH
Women's Trainer

"Sandy" Worth begins her eighth year as head trainer for the ten women's Varsity sports at Maryland. A graduate of Maryland (1973), Sandy holds a B.S. in Physical Education.

Sandy was a Terrapin athlete, playing field hockey and basketball for four years. She became interested in the training field when she suffered an injury, but fortunately it was not a debilitating one and she was able to continue playing until graduation. Upon returning to the lineup she continued in a dual capacity as player and student trainer.

Now, certified by the National Athletic Trainers Asociation (N.A.T.A.), Sandy heads the women's training staff, coordinating the women student-trainers.

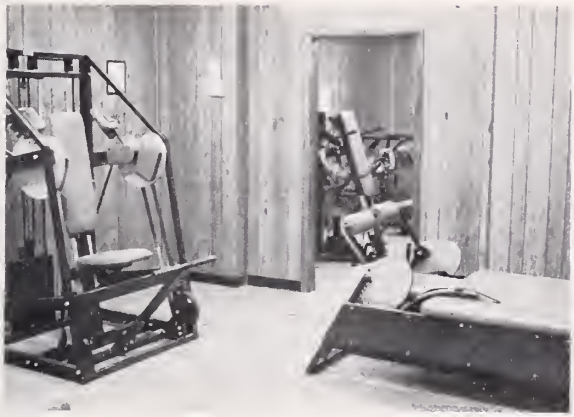
1st Round	—	BYE (7th Seed)
2nd Round	—	Maryland defeated Kentucky 83-82 (College Park, Maryland)
¼-Finals	—	Tennessee defeated Maryland 79-67 (Knoxville, Tennessee)

Maryland and Tennessee met in the ¼-final game for the past two years. They met with the exact ranking both years — Tennessee 2nd and Maryland 9th. Both years Tennessee knocked the Terps out of the National Tournament, advancing to the final four and finishing as National Runner-Up.

COLE FIELD HOUSE

The athletic facilities at Maryland University are among the finest in the nation.

Cole Field House, center of the Terrapin Athletic program, is home of the women's basketball team. Built in 1955, it is one of the most famous landmarks on campus. One of the largest facilities on the east coast, the 14,500 seat arena is a prime site for national and international competition.



Located within Cole Field House is the new nautilus facility. Air - conditioned and fully panelled, the two room, five machine set-up is used by Terrapin athletes and is part of Chris Weller's pre-season conditioning program.

The women's locker room and athletic training room are situated across the corridor. Carpeted in the bright Maryland red both rooms serve to prepare the athletes prior to game time.

International competition tests the athlete to his or her extreme. The pressure of the actual competition is sometimes less than that experienced during the team tryouts. In any event, representing one's country in International Competition is both an honor and a reward to the long hours spent working on developing the athletic skills that ranks the athlete among the best in the world.

The University of Maryland women's basketball team boasts several players selected to represent their countries in International Competition.

Among these is Tara Heiss, the Terps' first 1,000 + career scorer. Maryland's starting point guard for three seasons, Heiss can best be remembered for the 1977-78 senior campaign which saw her team capture the first ACC Women's Championship and reach the final game of the National Championship Tournament, ending the year 27-4, ranked second in the nation.

In the summer of '78, Heiss was selected to the 12 player U.S. Women's team that toured the Orient, and was the only American chosen to the Big-Four All-Tournament team. In November of the same year she was again selected to play for the U.S. National team against the People's Republic of China National Touring team in Madison Square Garden.

In April of 1979, Heiss was selected to the U.S. Pan American squad that won its first World Women's Basketball Championship since 1957, in Seoul. In that tournament, Heiss was voted the most popular player. Heiss realized a major achievement when she was named to the 1980 United States Olympic women's basketball squad.

Kris Kirchner, a three year starter for Maryland and the Terps all-time career scorer and rebounder, also boasts tremendous international experience. Prior to attending the University of Maryland (1977), Kirchner was selected to the U.S. Jr. Pan Am Team that toured Mexico City and won the "Cristobal Colon Cup". The following summer (1978) she was part of the U.S. National Team that journeyed to the VIII Bulgarian Federation Tournament in Burgas, Bulgaria.

In 1979 she was chosen to the U.S. Pan Am team, traveling to the Far East and to Puerto Rico. The summer of 1980 saw Kirchner join former teammate Heiss on the U.S. Olympic team which played exhibition games in Switzerland, France and Italy and was the winner of a pre-Olympic Tournament among 23 countries in Varna, Bulgaria.

Jane Zivalich, a four year letter winner at Maryland, was selected in 1977 to play on the United States Junior Pan-Am team in a tournament in Taiwan. A knee injury sustained in the semi-finals of the 1978 AIAW Championships kept her out of additional international competition.

Krystal Kimrey, who captained the Terrapins during the 1979-80 season, also gained international experience while at Maryland. She spent two summers touring Europe playing for the Athletes in Action team.

On the current squad, senior co-captain Myra Waters was selected to the Mid-West Junior Women's Basketball squad that attended the 1978 Olympic Festival in Colorado. She was then selected to the U.S. Junior team that was to tour Peru.

Terp junior Jasmina Perazic spends her summers at home in her native land of Yugoslavia. This past year she participated in the European World Games. During the summer of 1980 she participated in the Moscow Olympic games where she started for the bronze medal winning Yugoslavian team.

Sophomore Marcia Richardson was selected to participate as a member of the East Squad this summer at the National Sports Festival in Syracuse. After a successful tournament she was one of 12 players selected to the Junior National team that tcured Yugoslavia.

All past, present and future International Players serve as an inspiration to everyone involved with Inter-collegiate Athletics. For themselves an ultimate reward is achieved; for their programs and institutions tremendous pride is felt.
